

Contest Winners Will Spend Fourth Day in Washington and Mount Vernon

Historical Spots in Capital City To Be Visited by Students.

Details of the third day in the 1932 travel contest tour are not available today, and the sponsors the Marion Merchants, The Star and the Erie Railroad, have divulged the itinerary of the fourth day of the trip.

On the fourth day the 12 winners in the contest, their chaperones and those who avail themselves of the limited number of reservations open for the trip, will visit Washington, D. C., and continue to Alexandria, Va., and Mount Vernon.

The special train bearing the party will arrive in the capital Wednesday about 5:30 a. m. and the tourists will be given two hours more sleep—if they aren't too thrilled at the day's prospects to be able to get in 40 winks before the big day begins.

By special bus the party will be taken on a tour of Washington, viewing the interesting city of historic tradition.

Most Pictured Building
No trip to Washington, D. C., would be complete without a visit to the capitol building and the White House. The capitol is the most popular building in the city. It is pictured and photographed more than any other public edifice in America.

The educational value of this fourth day's tour is doubly valuable in this year of the George Washington bicentennial.

As the party tours the city, a guide will point out the hundreds of historic sites, national monuments and the buildings where the governmental business of the nation is carried on.

The Washington and Lincoln monuments will be pointed out, as will the National Gallery of Art and the new national museum, the library of congress, the Lincoln museum, the National Academy of Building, the Pan-American Union building, the government printing office, the treasury department, the patent office and Arlington national cemetery.

First President's Home and Church Where He Worshipped on Schedule.

Enroute to Mount Vernon the party will pass through the old town of Alexandria, Va., established in 1749. A stop will be made to visit Christ church where both Washington and Robert E. Lee worshipped, and the imposing $1,000,000 George Washington Masonic national memorial on the outskirts of the city.

Home Well Preserved

Mount Vernon will be one of the high spots of interest in the trip. There the party will see the old homestead of Washington, admirably preserved as it stood when the distinguished proprietor enjoyed the social gaiety for which it was noted.

The estate of 200 acres, with adjacent servants' quarters, stables and orderly gardens hedged by boxwood and evergreens, is owned by the Mount Vernon Ladies' Association of America.

Among the furnishings are many treasures, including General Washington's sword, the key to the battle, presented by General Lafayette and other priceless relics.

Details of the third day in New York City will be given in a forthcoming special Wednesday edition of The Star.

FLASHES OF LIFE

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO.—Thomas Delmatio is retiring from this busy-busy world to catch up on his reading. Delmatio, with five books by Victor Hugo under his arm, was nabbed for larceny. The judge sentenced him to stay in jail until he reads all five.

OKLAHOMA CITY.—Barber Charles H. Riggs, who carved a nick in a governor's chin, now seeks to carve a niche in the hall of fame as a legislator. He lost his barber concession at the state house after he made Gov. W. H. Murray say "ouch." Now he's running for the legislature.

CHICAGO.—Enamelled polls are the latest for the ladies. First they color their hair with powder to match their evening gowns, then they spray it with enamel to hold the ends in place.

ALBANY.—Whether Peter Stuyvesant's stump was a right stump or a left stump is a question that stump Dr. Alexander C. Flick, state historian, 80 in Dutch Curacao where the severed leg of the governor of early Dutch New York is buried, they're planning to dig it up to find out.

175 Persons Will Take Part in Exhibitions; Eagles' Band To Play.

Tumbler, flying ring artists, parallel and horizontal bar performers, clowns, pyramid building, hand balancing and a myriad of other stunts of like nature will be presented April 7 and 8 at the Y. M. C. A. as the "Bungle Brothers & Sorepaws" indoor circus is presented on the lower gym floor. One hundred forty-five performers will take part in the circus proper, with something like 25 more being connected with the various side shows which will be held at the same time. The circus is being arranged and directed by J. L. Meredith, physical director of the Y.

The Eagles' band will furnish music for the circus on both nights.
Dick Gilmore, Bob Tuttle, A. Redman, Vaughn Fox, Dallas Johnson, and Carl Cudd are some of those having principal parts in the circus. Gilmore and Tuttle will perform on the horizontal bars. Vaughn Fox and A. Redman will work out on the parallel bars. Dallas Johnson and Carl Cudd will perform in several different features.

A special indoor fireworks display will be presented in connection with the circus, the display having been made up especially for this entertainment.

A number of features celebrating the Washington bicentennial will be presented as a part of the circus. Various colonial figures will be represented in "wax figures." Betsy Ross will be depicted in the act of making the first flag, as will several other historically important acts. There will be three full acts celebrating the bicentennial.

Ticket sales for the circus were scheduled to get under way yesterday.

How to Escape FLU and Grippe

- 1 Avoid so far as possible the places where germs are most likely to be spread; overcrowded cars and public meeting places; overheated, stuffy rooms.
- 2 Be careful of close contact with others and beware of all coughers and sneezers; breathe through the nose, get fresh air, but avoid drafts or chilling.
- 3 Get lots of rest. Drink plenty of water. Keep the bowels open. Take extra precaution to keep in good physical condition, so your system will have normal resistance against germs.
- 4 Try, particularly, to avoid catching cold. Colds lower your resistance to disease germs. At the first sign of any cold, take Bayer Aspirin; remain indoors if possible until your cold is gone. And if you have a sore throat, dissolve some Bayer Aspirin tablets in water and gargle; this relieves the soreness, and it usually reduces the inflammation.
- 5 If you have any reason to suspect even a touch of flu, call your doctor at once.

4-H CLUBS WAR ON FARM PESTS

By The Associated Press
LONDON, O., March 30.—Pests of all sorts that annoy the farmer are living hard at the hands of 4-H club members of Fairfield and Jefferson townships in Madison county.

A pest extermination contest, conducted by Lyman F. Baker, county club agent, is now in full swing, with clubs in both townships vying earnestly to pile up points before the competition closes April 28. Efforts are directed against rats, sparrows, mice, crows, moles, hawks and similar nuisances that destroy thousands of dollars worth of crops, flowers, grass, etc., annually.

Baker estimates that one rat alone may destroy $5 worth of property each year.

At the first check recently, it was found the club members had killed 184 rats, 1,138 sparrows and mice, seven moles, two crows and a hawk.

City Health Director Makes 150 Calls in Month

Smith Makes First Report as Commissioner; Board Members Point to Saving by New Plan; Mrs. Kraner Is Elected President Pro Tem.

150 and 160 visits to the sick of the city together with the care of eight maternity cases included so far this month the activities of Dr. Kenneth Smith, who at the meeting of the board of health last month, was appointed city health commissioner.

At the first meeting of the city board in its new quarters in the city hall yesterday afternoon, Dr. Smith gave a verbal report of his activities thus far this month. It was pointed out by board members that under the former plan of the combined city and county health boards, the cost to the city for physician's services during the month would have totaled more than $300. The new health commissioner is being paid $1,800 a year as part time commissioner and $1,800 for the care of the indigent sick.

Mrs. Kraner Elected

Mrs. H. S. Kraner was elected president pro tem of the board at yesterday's meeting.

Martin L. Verburg who was appointed by Mayor W. C. Phillips to succeed Dr. S. W. Mattox as a member of the city board, was the only one of the two new members to be present at yesterday's meeting. Harry Merchant who was appointed to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of F. O. Tuttle, was unable to be present.

The health commissioner also reported three cases of diphtheria during the month and the discovery of two diphtheria carriers who were given treatment. He also reported one barber shop in the city which had failed to comply with the requirements of the new health law governing barber shops. The proprietor, he said, agreed to make the improvements at once.

Upon the recommendation of the health commissioner, the board voted to send a letter to all food handlers in the city, instructing them to have a physical examination in keeping with a resolution adopted by the city board.

Activities of City Nurse Mable Hastings during the month of February, according to a report submitted to the city board yesterday afternoon, included, in addition to 55 school visits, 204 visits to patients and 51 visits to homes in the interest of school children.

Pupils Given Treatment

The report also stated that 17 children had been excluded from the city schools during the month because of skin diseases and 93 had been given class room inspection during the month. Health Commissioner Dr. Kenneth Smith and Dr. Johnson of the state department of health, in the immunization of nearly 600 school children against diphtheria.

Seventy gallons of milk and 20 pounds of meat were condemned by Dr. J. T. Gruber, city milk and meat inspector, during the month of February, according to his report for the month.

The inspector also reported he had cancelled the permits of 23 producers during the month and had refused five, three of which were later granted when the producer complied with the requirements of the health code. He also reported 47 inspections during the month, 19 of which were farm inspections. The average bacteria count for the month was given in the report as 28,000 while the average butterfat test was 4.42.

The Stars Say— For Thursday, March 31

CONFLICTING signs are found in the astrological map for this day. While business, industry and employment may be apured to a good achievement, with the prospect of substantial increase of the fortunes through sound ideas, hard work and fidelity, yet personal matters may be accomplished by complications or adventures of a sudden and irregular nature. Discretion in these affairs is enjoined. Personal correspondence may prove beneficial.

Those whose birthday it is may find the year to be one of achievement by means of perseverance, faithfulness and industry, accompanied by accumulation and stabilizing of the fortunes; but private associations and developments may give concern, being abrupt, complicated and probably unconventional or spectacular. Circumspect behaviour is enjoined. Personal correspondence may benefit. A child born on this day may be practical, trustworthy and diligent in work and business, thereby making its fortunes solid, but its private affairs may bring perplexity.

Up in Michigan, a justice of the peace is under arrest, charged with using his office both as a court-room and a speakeasy. Some mighty queer developments have come from the operation of the "experiment, noble in purpose."

A well-known justice divides litigants into two classes—"the rich and the poor; the rich because they can afford it and the poor because they can't." There is the half-way class, but they are generally poor before they discover that they can't.

"Nothing in art," says H. N. Brailford, "is the fruit of more patient labor than spontaneity. Even the larks do not improvise." It's our guess that Mr. Brailford has been sitting in at some noonday luncheon and listening to purely extemporaneous inspirational talks.

The New York Times is authority for the statement that transatlantic steamship lines are considering reducing passenger rates on an average of almost twenty per cent. We may Rushing the season, the mosquito has become so thick up in Chicago that they are driving golfers off the links. It looks as though

Samuel Seabury, in his final report on the magistrates' courts as chairman of the Hofstadter committee investigating political corruption in New York City, recommends among other matters, the removal from the mayor of the power to appoint judges. To those unaware that the mayor of New York had the power to name magistrates, this recommendation will have a tendency to make clearer some of the official crookedness from which the city has suffered.

The chamber of commerce of South Bend, Indiana, has voted to petition President Hoover and the Indiana delegates in congress to bring about the abolition of the United States department of commerce, the federal trade commission and the valuation bureau of the interstate commerce commission. That would make something of a hole in our bureau system, all right, but asking Mr. Hoover to bring about the abolition of the department of commerce would be much like asking him to destroy a favorite child.

Examined, and Found Wanting.

County government is on the defensive. The taxpayers' campaign, started by the return to reality which has accompanied the hard times, will be directed in large part to modernizing it.
The Ohio institute, a non-partisan organization of citizens interested in better government, has published a report of its findings from a survey of county government in nineteen typical counties. There is nothing surprising in the report; it is merely repetition of defects with which most citizens, in Ohio and all other states, are familiar.

County government is decentralized, consisting of numerous separate offices and commissions filled by election and operating without the coordinating influence of an executive officer. Closely related activities, furthermore, are scattered among independent offices, while at the same time overlapping and duplication are common. Particularly in small counties does this haphazard organization result in a needless burden on taxpayers.

The spoils system is used as a rule, perhaps with no more destructive effect than in municipal, state and federal government, but with less justification usually, because county government itself can claim less justification for existence in its present form. In rural counties, the Ohio institute reports, a virtually complete change of employees generally accompanies a change of officials, even though the party remains the same.

Other defects are failure of elective officers to participate actively in operation of their offices; short terms of important officers; faulty budget and appropriation practices; failure to take advantage of centralized purchasing and buying without competitive bidding.
The report, as might be expected, is destructively critical. The survey which can disclose good points in Ohio's obsolete system of county government is yet to be made. It is an impossibility.

The Veterans' Bonus Again.

Observers of Washington's political circus who were positive when congress convened that a bill providing for immediate payment in full of the face value of veterans' adjusted service certificates could not be passed over President Hoover's veto are modifying their claims. They failed to give sufficient consideration to the effect of an election year on the congressional mind.

The country wants nothing less than another bitter controversy over payment of the adjusted service certificates. Past experience has shown the veterans that they can get what they want; it has shown those who are opposed to what they please to designate as "treasury raids" that the only qualified treasury watchdogs—congressmen—are not watchdogs at all when approached by compact minorities influencing large blocs of votes. In other words, if the Veterans of Foreign Wars, which is leading the movement for cash settlement of the certificates, really wants the settlement to be made in this most difficult of all financial years it will be made.

The London Times, which sees the situation in perspective, said recently that it was "difficult to see how the United States could remain on the gold standard or escape inflation ever more disastrous than the present deflation" if a bill providing for such cash settlement were to become law. At home, where Americans take their country's financial stability for granted, even the most rabid proponent of an immediate cash settlement is unable to say from what source the treasury, already operating with a deficit expected to approach $3,000,000,000 by the end of June, is to get the money.

The face value of all certificates outstanding is approximately $3,520,000,000. Loans already made amount to about $1,326,000,000; hence, immediate redemption of all the certificates at their full face value would involve an additional outlay of approximately $2,200,000,000. That sum, if placed in circulation, might relieve the country from a measure of the present economic recession. It unquestionably would prove of benefit to possible merchant or other creditors of the veterans and thus to the country at large, but the very interesting question bobs up—Where will the government get the money?

The governmental credit is dropping as it is.

The lower house of congress yesterday voted a manufacturing levy on automobiles, motorcycles, trucks and accessories which, it is estimated, would produce $67,000,000. That's a long way off from the $600,000,000 the sales tax, as originally planned, would have produced.

"It is almost impossible," Stanley Baldwin is quoted as saying, "by legislation to separate gentlemen who wish to get rich quick from gentlemen who are anxious to help them get rich quick." In other words, Stanley, if we get you correctly, you mean that it's impossible to protect the suckers by law.

Get Out the Salt Shaker.

There is no evidence yet that debunking has spread to politics, despite its extensive ravages in other fields. Extravagant claims and predictions of Utopian bliss under the right party will be scattered with the usual lavishness, early campaign signs indicate.

Democrats, particularly, are showing a fondness for the customary political excess of presidential years. It is reasonable to expect that Republicans, who should have been chastened somewhat by events of the last two years, will incline more to moderation—perhaps not far enough, though, to balance the ballyhoo of hopeful Democrats.

It is a commonly accepted, though unwritten rule, that "everything goes" in a presidential campaign, which is the heavyweight championship bout of national politics. As a matter of fact, the difference between a presidential campaign and a local campaign is mainly one of degree. Damaging rumors, calumny, false claims and the shoddy substance of persuasion designated exactly in Americana as "boloney" are present in both, but enlarged a few thousand times when the presidency is at stake.

Fortunately, most of it is good natured. When Democrats lean attentively over the egg that will not hatch until next November and claim to hear the rooster crowing lustily inside they get the joke and so does every one else. Republicans, likewise, when they claim the eagle is invincible know all about his weaknesses.

There will be issues, of course, most of them important, but some of them mere mock beams to make the platform look stronger than it is.
A smothering abundance of talk there will be, too; and it is the talk that matters most. There has been and will be precious little of it that can be stored away without being given a heavy salting. The year, 1932, will bring less uncomfortable mental indigestion if each person shakes out a liberal sprinkling of salty common sense as each tidbit of political opinion before he swallows it whole.

A San Francisco editor holds that the earning power of stocks fixes their market prices.
One has but to recall the inflated values of stocks back during the speculative orgy of 1929—back in the days when stocks were selling five and six hundred per cent. above their earning power—to realize how little connection there is between the two in times of financial frenzy.

Juan de la Cierva, the Spanish inventor of the autogiro, has perfected a wingless plane, which has been tested and proved in all ways a success. It is so small that it may be housed in an ordinary garage, and yet it is capable of great speed. Who knows? It may be that it will cut such inroads into the ranks of motorists that we true aristocrats of the land may be able to escape extinction.

While two masked men, who supposed they had knocked him insensible with a chair, were searching the upper story of his home for $4,000 he had hidden away, a citizen of Williamson, West Virginia, who had no faith in banks, collected the currency from hiding places and threw it out a window. His conversion was speedy. Awaiting till he was sure the burglars were gone, he went outside, found the money and deposited it in a bank the next day.

Keep Teeth in Health.

BY ROYAL S. COPELAND, M. D.

It used to be thought that a man who used his tooth brush faithfully, yet whose teeth de-cayed, was unjustly persecuted by fate; but we have discovered that mouth cleanliness is only one of the factors required to keep the teeth in first class condition.

It was formerly believed that everything was all right if inspection of the mouth showed no decayed teeth; but now we know that costly bridge work and shining gold crowns may conceal "sinks of filthiness," capable of generating conditions that may break down even the strongest constitution. The X-ray examination of the mouth has revealed many a secret, formerly undetectable.

The structure of the teeth is such that a crowned tooth in which an infection has developed is extremely dangerous. Unable to escape outward into the mouth, the poisonous matter is forced through the root of the tooth into the blood stream. Since the health of all the structures of the body depends upon their supply of healthy blood, it is readily seen that the influence of an infected tooth may be far reaching and dangerous. There is a theory that the spot most vulnerable to infections is some area of the body that has been weakened by disease or previous injury.

The general public has become aware that abscessed teeth may cause disorders of the cavities adjacent to the jaw, little chambers called the "antra." The roots of the upper teeth are in close proximity to these cavities.
Serious diseases of the eye, sometimes resulting in loss of vision, may come from such a cause, while rheumatism, arthritis, general debility and frequent colds are often associated with dental defects.

Even though the patient is wearing a complete upper and lower set of artificial teeth, there may be hidden trouble. An X-ray examination of the mouth may reveal an old root that has been completely concealed by the gum.

It is wise to have a thorough examination of the mouth each year if the general health is below par. This is particularly true if there are gold crowns or many fillings in the teeth.
The present trend of medicine is toward the prevention of disease as well as its cure. Every one should learn the essential rules for preventing the health of the teeth, because there can not be a guarantee against disease if the teeth are not healthy.

Strict cleanliness must be observed, and the teeth brushed carefully after each meal. Acidity of the mouth demands an alkaline wash, such as a solution of bicarbonate of soda or milk of magnesia.

The minerals, lime and phosphorus must be assured to maintain the teeth in good condition. These can be had through suitable foods. To have these minerals properly absorbed, the "sunshine vitamin" D must be present.
Sunlight, milk, cod liver oil and yolks of eggs are rich in this vitamin.

The diet conducive to health should contain citrus fruits, raw vegetables and other articles that make up a rational food supply for the needs of the human system.

The Salzburg Festival.

BY ALFRED TYENAUER

Vienna, March 20.—This year's program of the world famous Salzburg festival is marked by two names:
Goethe and Haydn.

In celebration of the 100th anniversary of Goethe's death Max Reinhardt, who is in charge of the dramatic performances, will stage "Faust," both parts in one evening, which promises to be a rare theatrical sensation.
The 200th birthday of the great composer, Haydn, will be celebrated in Salzburg by a series of musical performances. The concerts and operatic performances will be conducted by Richard Strauss, who is regarded by many as the greatest among all living composers.
Clemens Krauss, director of the Vienna opera-house and other famous musicians.

American millionaires are badly needed in Salzburg.

The festival, which lasts from July 30 to August 31 is more splendid and costly than any other similar festival in Europe. The municipality and the government invest annually large sums, because the festival plays attract a great number of foreign visitors and their money. They proved to be a great commercial asset to the country.

Last summer the festival plays were visited by nearly 50,000 persons, twice the population of Salzburg itself. The turnover was estimated at about $1,000,000.

But the financial situation is worse than a year ago, and theatrical ventures are always a gamble.

It is only since 1920, when Max Reinhardt took in hand the arrangement of the annual summer festivals that Salzburg became a meeting place of the aristocracy, plutocracy and literati of the world.

Reinhardt's selections comprise only classics, as the famous mystery play "Everyman," by Hugo von Hoffmansthal, dramas by Shakespeare, Goethe, Schiller, and operas, ballets, concerts and masses of Mozart, Beethoven, Haydn and other master composers.

It is rather remarkable how many people understand, or at least pretend to understand, the artistic blend of Reinhardt's modern stage management and the classical masterpieces in an ancient environment. Reinhardt's principal stage is the apocryphal place before the beautiful Salzburg cathedral, the neighboring streets, the crypt beneath and the mountain above. He has the members of the state opera and of the leading dramatic theaters of Vienna at his disposal, and he engages also prominent foreign artists, American, English, French, German, Italian and Russian.

Salzburg is one of the oldest cities of Central Europe.

Its history has been traced as far as 4000 B.C. A great many relics of the younger stone age, of the iron age and the bronze age, excavated in the neighborhood of the city, are testifying to the ancient culture of this beautiful valley.

Celtic, Roman, and ancient German conquerors had left their mark upon the architectural picture of Salzburg. But none had influenced this picture more than the Church of Rome, which understood the erection of splendid buildings, of magnificent churches and dreadful dungeons, far better than any of her rivals.

Salzburg, surrounded by snow-capped mountains became in the course of centuries the pleasure ground of the mighty, and kings, archbishops, archbishops and aristocrats outdid each other in building there elegant castles and marvelously equipped villas.

It had a decidedly favorable influence upon the arts and artists and Salzburg developed into an art center, somewhat like the German Weimar or Bayreuth, and its name is especially closely associated with music since one of the greatest musicians of all ages, Mozart, was born within its walls.

Even now, though most of the prominent artists of Austria have emigrated to richer countries, they usually return every summer to Salzburg and its neighborhood.

Important News to the Scioto.

BY J. H. GALBRAITH

There were Indian villages all along the Scioto valley at the time the first European ships touched the shores of continental America. The sight of these huge vessels, we know, filled the coast dwelling Indians with awe and consternation.

News traveled from tribe to tribe—slowly, of course—even when it was of such tremendous importance as the arrival of strange men on strange boats of astonishing size, but the coming of the adventurers must have penetrated the interior. The report must have been intensely interesting by the time it reached the banks of the Scioto.

Our people living in the interior, have never been as much interested in measures of defense against attacks from the sea, and so it may be presumed that the news did not so immediately concern the Indians living along the Scioto as it did those along the coast.

It is interesting to speculate upon the reaction of the Indians living on the banks of the Scioto to the news of this tremendous importance to the world—and to them, but it must always remain a mere matter of speculation.
Nothing definite remains. This can be said, however: They could not have imagined that it meant more and more to them than it did.

Ever thought of that? In ten or fifteen years, how will they be? How you care for them now will have something to do with it. You cannot continue to strain them and not later have cause to regret.

Dowler Elected President of Group; Bert D. Myers Is Director with W. A. Fitchler of Martel as Assistant; First Appearance Planned.

Organization of the Marion Civic Orchestra has been effected. Bert D. Myers of 229 Thew street is conductor. Assisting in the reorganization is J. Hopkins, conductor of the symphony orchestra and at Capital university. Hopkins met with a group of instrumentalists Monday night in the Canto club rooms on west Center street, and heard a short rehearsal. The backing of a community for a project as worth while as the Marion Civic orchestra, was rated as of paramount importance towards its success by Mr. Hopkins in a short talk. He complimented the group of 25 musicians who had gathered for the reorganization on their spirit and desire to better Marion's music circles.

Gets the Cream

ANOTHER instance of the "early bird getting the worm" was written into the records of the common pleas court here during a recent divorce hearing.

A wife testified that her husband would arise in the morning, hurry downstairs and drink the cream off the milk ordered for the day. This testimony was introduced as proof of her charge of extreme cruelty.

When she remonstrated with him, stating that she wanted the cream for their children, he reminded her that "the early bird gets the worm, you know," according to her testimony.

The husband did not have an opportunity to take the stand to answer the charge. The wife, however, was refused a divorce.

Famous Will

J. B. WALKER of 101 west Walnut street has received a newspaper clipping carrying the will of Mary Washington, mother of George Washington. The clipping was sent to him by his daughter Mrs. David D. Fletcher of Redlands, Calif.

In the year of the celebration of the George Washington bicentennial, the bequests of Mary Washington to her illustrious son are interesting. Her gift to her son is worded as follows:

"I give to my son, General George Washington, all my land on Accokeek run, in the County of Stafford, and also my negro boy, George, to him and his assigns forever. Also my best bed, bedstead, and Virginia cloth curtains, the same that stands in my best room, my quilted blue and white quilt and my best dressing gowns."

That the Washington family kept a large staff of Negro slaves is evident in the will. Each of the bequests include a Negro man or woman.

The will appoints General Washington as executor, with the remark, "and as I owe few or no debts, I direct my executor to give no security nor to appraise my estate, but desire the same may be allotted to my devices with as little trouble and delay as may be."

No Licking

THE office of the C. D. & M. Electric Co. has the distinction of being the first local concern to install a postage meter. The machine, which is smaller than a typewriter, does away with the "licking" of stamps and envelope flaps in that it stamps and seals them in the same operation. The machine may be regulated for any denomination of postage rate and a connection provides tape which may be stamped and placed on packages and parcels. This particular machine carries postage in denominations of 2, 4, 6 and 20 cents. The machine is regulated by the postoffice where a deposit is made for a certain amount of postage. When this amount is used the machine locks itself and only the key at the postoffice and more money can make it work again.

Washington Stamps

Marion celebrators of the George Washington bicentennial can do a real job of celebrating when they visit the postoffice.

Twelve issues of stamps bear the likeness of the first president including the special bicentennial stamp.

Package and letter mailers can get these George Washington stamps in series ranging from one half cent to 10 cents.

Harding To Start Spring Football Practice Next Week

Forty Candidates Expected To Drill For About 6 Weeks

Fundamentals To Occupy Major Share of Time During Spring Workouts.

Coach D. N. Bohrer will issue a call for football candidates within a few days and about 40 aspirants for berths on next season's grid combination are expected to start spring workouts next week. Bohrer will outfit his squad sometime this week and commence practice on next Monday.

Something like two score candidates are expected to be romping the greenward starting next week as Bohrer seeks to teach them many of the fundamentals of the game. Little other than fundamentals will occupy the five or six weeks time which the Harding boys are expected to put in on the practice field this spring.

While it is certain that Bohrer will have to uncover some new talent to fill in several of the positions which will be left vacant by the graduation this year of seniors, the Harding mentor is expected to spend little time this spring in uncovering these men. He will probably devote most of his time to general practice and wait until the start of fall practice to start working individuals into particular positions.

Graduation will riddle the ranks of last season's first string eleven. On the line, only Oliver Hagan and Carl McDaniels and Bob Folts of last year will be back. In the backfield Bob Keller will be the only regular of last season returning for play. However, the situation is not nearly so bad as it seems at present. It is quite possible that a lineup as strong as last season's could be named right now out of the reserve material.

Indications are at present that Harding will be represented next season by a smaller but faster team than was the case last season. The 1931 edition unusually large, so large in fact that throughout the N. C. O. league it was generally dubbed the "beast team."

SPEARS RESIGNS AT OREGON; WILL COACH WISCONSIN FOOTBALL

Former Minnesota Mentor Quits Western Post for Big Ten Job.

By The Associated Press
PORTLAND, Ore., March 30.—Dr. Clarence W. Spears has decided to resign as head football coach at the University of Oregon to accept a similar position at the University of Wisconsin, the Oregonian says in a copyrighted story today.

The paper said the noted mentor's resignation will be submitted to the University of Oregon today or tomorrow, with the request that it become effective immediately.

Spears' decision was made last night at a conference with Arlie Mucks, associate professor in the college of agriculture at Wisconsin, who had come west to persuade the Oregon coach to return to the Big Ten conference, the Oregonian said. Spears formerly coached at Minnesota.

Spears intends to leave Oregon as soon as possible so that he may head spring football practice at Wisconsin, the Oregonian said. His contract has three more years to run, but it is not expected that he will have any difficulty obtaining his release.

Spears did not reveal the Badger salary terms.

Harding Basketeers Rotary Club Guests

Seventeen members of the Harding basketball squad and four members of the school's faculty were guests yesterday at the noon luncheon of the Rotary club at the organization met at the Harding hotel. Paul D. Barrett, personnel manager of the Ohio Oil company of Findlay, addressed the luncheon group, speaking on the subject, "The Marion Skyline."

Mr. Barrett compared the Marion skyline to the skyline of other cities and then brought out a comparison of between the things necessary to build an impressive skyline and the things necessary to build an impressive man or impressive athlete, stressing the fact that both height and depth are necessary for sound construction in either.

A total of 72 were present at the luncheon.

Midwest Stars Seek Posts on Olympic Team

By The Associated Press
CHICAGO.—The athletic hot-houses of the midwest have nurtured a new crop of undergraduate runners and jumpers for prospective harvest as Olympians. A few months ago a pre-Olympic inventory in the Big Ten indicated that any showing by conference men in the big international doings this summer would have to be accomplished by alumn.

But with the climax of the indoor season in a jumble of fractured records, a half dozen undergraduates have crowded to the "inside track" in the early summary of hopes.

Heading the new list is Henry Brocksmith, sensational Indiana university distance man who left a wake of exhausted milers and two milers as he won both the 5 mile and 10 mile races in the Big Ten title meet.

His 4:12.5 mile, fastest ever run in the midwest, and his 9:18.4 two mile, eight seconds faster than the former conference standard, were clocked off the same evening.

Records Flutter Down
Three other names flashed to prominence in the same meet. Bryce Beecher, comparatively unknown Hoosier, vaulted 18 feet 8 inches to help his team to its victory margin over Michigan.

Don Renwick, Michigan sophomore, who as a freshman often trimmed Eddie Tolan in practice, bowed his way into big time competition with a world's record-tying 62 seconds for the 80-yard dash.

Ed Russell, who has run many good quarter-miles for Michigan, set a new conference mark of 50 seconds flat, indicating he is ready for bigger and better efforts at Olympic consideration.

Jack Keller, Ohio State's brilliant hurdler, found the double duties of hurdling and sprinting too onerous in the title meet and failed to score but he nevertheless will be this area's foremost hope for representation in the Olympic stick-skippling finals.

"Independents" Surprise
Two of the more athletically important "independents" of the midwest bobbed up with startling performers on the same day the Big Ten jamboree was held.

Alex Wilson of Notre Dame made two circuits of the eighth-mile path at South Bend in 49.8, setting a new American record for that size track, and Ralph Metcalfe of Marquette, former national interscholastic sprint champion, joined the world record-holders with another 6.2 seconds "60."

Wilson, however, will be of no help whatever to American Olympic hopes, as he is a Canadian.

TWO SEEDED STARS BEATEN IN TOURNNEY

By The Associated Press
BOSTON, Mass., March 30.—Only three of the five seeded players remained in the women's national indoor tennis tournament today as the quarter-finals play began.

Margaret Blake of Lenox, 1929 champion, was beaten yesterday by Mrs. William M. Shedden of Boston, 6-3, 6-8, 6-1, and Edith Sigourney of Boston, who held the indoor title in 1928, was eliminated by Dorrance Chase, Simmons college tennis captain, 2-6, 6-4, 6-2.

Rangers Take Title.
By The Associated Press
NEW YORK, March 30.—The New York Rangers have won their first National Hockey league championship in six seasons of top-rank hockey, a place in the finals for the Stanley cup, hockey's historic world championship emblem, and a good long rest while the Toronto Maple Leafs and Montreal Maroons battle for the right to oppose them in the finals.

AUSTRALIAN STAR

Virden McGrath, 15, (above), is called the Ellsworth Vine of Australian tennis, so brilliant has been his play in the Australian championship matches. McGrath has swept everything before him in the meet with the country's best net stars.

Training Camp Highlights

By The Associated Press
NEW ORLEANS, La.—March 30.—Earl Averill, home run king of the Cleveland Indians, ran his training season batting average to .571 yesterday by hanging out three singles as the Tribe defeated the Toledo Mud Hens 4 to 0.

Oral Hildebrand allowed only five hits in five innings, and Wes Ferrell gave no hits in the final four stanzas.

TAMPA.—Cincinnati's Reds moved on Orlando to tackle the Philadelphia Athletics today.

The Reds yesterday overcame a seven run lead rolled up by the New York Yankees, only to lose in the eighth on a pass, and two scratch hits. The final score was 9 to 7.

BRADENTON.—James "Tex" Carleton, who played with Houston in the Texas league last year, is one of six pitchers who have been selected to stay with the St. Louis Cardinals when the National league race opens, Jim Lindsey, Bill Hallahan, Paul Derringer, Flint Rhem and Sylvester Johnson are the five others already decided upon.

LOS ANGELES.—The axe has fallen again in the Detroit Tiger training squad and Orin Collier, recruit pitcher, has been released on option.

Vio Sorrell, veteran, yesterday allowed ten well scattered hits and subdued the Chicago Cubs 5 to 3.

ORLANDO.—The Athletics and the Cincinnati Reds meet in an exhibition game today.

The A's 4 to 3 defeat by the Boston Braves yesterday was the third suffered at the hands of the Bostonians this season, and it brought their records for the season to eight victories and five defeats.

ATLANTA.—Having won two consecutive games from the Atlanta Crackers, the Phillies go after a third conquest today. The Phillies won yesterday, 7 to 3. Bart Shotton dropped Bill Woodington and Homer Dudley, right and left-handed pitchers, respectively.

ST. PETERSBURG.—Ambitious rookies have been trying for three years to take Earle Combs' centerfield job from him but there's no evidence that Combs will not be in his usual lace in the New York Yankee lineup when the season opens.

JACKSONVILLE.—The Brooklyn Dodgers will do their scoring in bunches this season if Manager Max Carey has read the signs aright.

"A rival pitcher may be able to keep our boys in check four or five innings," Carey observes, "but to do so through a whole game is going to be tough."

The Lexington Racing association track in Kentucky probably is the oldest in the country, the first race there having been held in 1826.

COURAGE REVEALED AS KID SCRAPPER AIDS NICHOLS IN FIGHT FOR CROWN

By The Associated Press
BUFFALO, N. Y., March 30.—On the light heavyweight throne after 11 years of fighting, George Nichols now can look back and smile as he recalls his first championship—king of the pin boys in a bowling alley.

Nichols fought as hard for his first honors as he did for his latest title, awarded by the National Bowling association after his victory in an elimination tournament.

Back in 1921, George, then a gangling lad of 13, was employed as a pin setter in a bowling alley in Sandusky, Ohio, his home city. Nine other boys were on the job and when business was slack boxing became the order of the day. At first, George lost decisions to all nine, but he kept plugging away and before the year was over had improved enough to be crowned champion of the alleys.

Real Start in Buffalo
That same willingness to fight his way to the top has marked Nichols' career since his first professional bout in 1923. Starting as a preliminary boy in Sandusky he fought for two years throughout the middle west and then drifted into Buffalo where he was signed to a contract by Jack Slinger, a local manager.

Under Slinger's tutelage, as was the case back in Sandusky, Nichols took his beatings at first but profited by his mistakes to battle his way to the top.

Never classified as a favorite because of his unorthodox left-handed style, George has surprised the experts time after time by coming from behind to win by constant aggressiveness.

Unknown For Years
Before Nichols brought the light heavyweight title back from Chicago, he was as little known to the average sport fan as the lowliest preliminary boy although he had fought in the city for six years. This lack of recognition was quieted to the new champion's quiet, decorous behavior outside the ring and his apparent distaste for the halloo.

Nichols has numerous diversions outside the ring which to keep him in perfect physical condition. He works off surplus energy on the golf links, by swimming in Lake Erie or skating on the city parks in the winter.

BATTALINO ADVISED TO TAKE "TIME OUT"

By The Associated Press
NEW YORK, March 30.—It looks like Madison Square Garden will have to postpone the lightweight title bout it hoped to stage between champion Tony Czonzeri and Christopher (Bat) Battalino, former featherweight title-holder in May.

Battalino, who took a severe beating from Billy Petrolle last week, has been advised by the New York State athletic commission to take a vacation from the ring for "at least 60 days."

Nichols' commission evidently believes Battalino will need at least two months to get over the effects of the Petrolle match which he lost on a technical knockout.

American baseball may boast another Roger Peckinpaugh in big league circles one of these days, if young Roger (above) lives up to his family name. Peckinpaugh, the son of a former major league star now manager of the Cleveland Indians, is considered a likely candidate for the diamond nine at Ohio Wesleyan University, Delaware, O., where he is a sophomore.

George Nichols, Buffalo southpaw, is shown above battling his way to a 10-round decision over Dave Maier of Milwaukee in the final bout at Chicago of the National Bowling association's elimination tournament for the light heavyweight title. Close-up shows fighting stance of the new champion who did his first scrapping as a pin boy in a Sandusky, Ohio, bowling alley.

Unusual Feats Are Recorded at Pin Tourney

By The Associated Press
DETROIT, Mich., March 30.—The thirty-second renewal of the American Bowling Congress probably will go on record as the most unusual in history of the organization.

Four of the most difficult splits known in the game have been made. The Nos. 4 and 6, the Nos. 8 and 10 and the Nos. 7 and 10 pins were made early in the tourney by booster bowlers. Monday, Arch Ward of Detroit cut down the almost impossible 4-6-7-9-10 pins.

A veteran team averaging 70 years in age; a team of youngsters whose average age was 15 and Billy Potrykus, a seven and a half year old Detroit youngster, performed yesterday.

Belmont Drugs of Toledo, topped the five-man competition last night. Scoring games of 988, 954 and 947, the visitors chalked up a 2,869 total.

Bobby Irish and Irvin Kelly of Albany, N. Y., caused the only change among the leaders. They moved into seventh place in the doubles division with a count of 1,286.

VINES ELIMINATED FROM TENNIS MEET

By The Associated Press
HOUSTON, Tex., March 30.—Ellsworth Vines of California, national singles champion, was out of the running today in the second annual Houston invitation tennis tournament.

Vines seeded No. 1, was upset yesterday by Martin Buxby, 20-year-old Texas university sophomore, 4-6, 6-2, 7-5. Spectators were amazed by the skill with which Buxby took advantage of erratic play by the champion.

The other favorites, George Lott of Chicago, Wilmer Allison of Austin, Tex., J. Gilbert Hall of New York and Junior Coen of Kansas City were safe.

DEATH ENDS CAREER OF MAN WHO SAVED CINCINNATI REDS

Lou Widrig, Financial Club in 1911 Summoned.

By The Associated Press
CINCINNATI, O., March 30.—Lou Widrig, 61, will be buried in New York City, across a river from here, tomorrow, behind as his monument the national baseball club of the 1911 season, which as treasurer saved from financial collapse the Cincinnati Reds.

Widrig died in New York of pneumonia, which he was suffering from since he was in his hotel room there. It was in 1918 that the foundation of the Cincinnati Reds seemed about to totter. Money, none came in. The club was on the verge of bankruptcy.

Widrig reached down to his pockets, and met the bills. Then he started financial reorganization. Given new life in 1919, Widrig drove on to win the national league pennant, as world's series.

Yet Widrig could not say it was his first and only life. He started life—after school—a druggist and what fortune he had, had its end there.

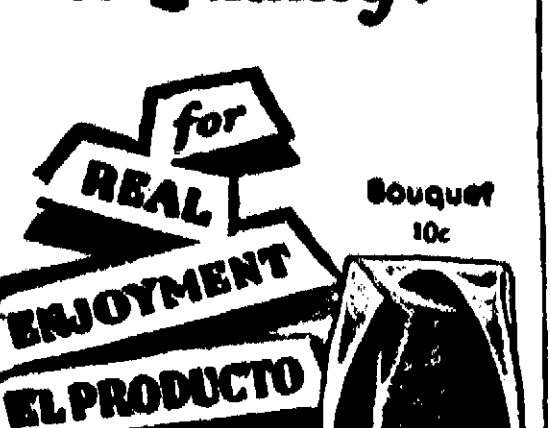

SCHNEIDER QUIN WINS PISTOL SHOOTING

Captain Lawrence Schneider, No. 4 team of the Marion association, scored a victory last night over the No. 5 team by Captain Ira Shrock. Schneider scored 1,728 points, 1,642 for the Shrock combination.

Schneider was high scorer of the winning team with a 369, trailed by C. F. Keel, 343. N. M. Landis led the with 387 and E. C. Macken with 335.

Captain Harold Cobb's team will compete against L. Groll's No. 3 quint tonight.

It's not magic— it's Quality!

Real enjoyment is no lucky break—no mystic miracle—it is the application of Quality making to Quality tobaccos.

Mildness, distinctive character, smooth, even-smoking—these are due to Quality tobaccos and quality making.

There is no magic—just Quality in real enjoyment. Prove it for yourself.

STOCKS SLIP

AFTER RALLY

Market Unable To Advance
In Face of Discouraging Reports.

By The Associated Press
NEW YORK, March 30 — The stock market was unable to advance today in the face of discouraging reports of steel and electric power production today, although bears were somewhat nervous.

The list pushed up a point or two in the first hour apparently reflecting short covering, then gradually eased off some issues showing moderate losses by early afternoon.

Utilities turned particularly heavy on the weekly power consumption report. Standard Gas Electric Power & Light and American Power & Light preferred issues sagged a point or more to low levels, as an American Power & Light common U. S. Steel common advanced a point, then retreated as the preferred issue sold off a couple of points to a new low under 88. Goodrich Rubber dropped more than 2 points on dividend uncertainty, and cutting the Westinghouse quarterly payment to 25 cents from 32 cents that stock off more than a point.

Beattie Creamery was again a soft spot of more than 2 but pressure against International Telephone lifted. The early upturn carried such issues as Santa Fe Union Pacific and Allied Chemical up a couple of points, but these gains were short-lived.

Despite the encouragement in Wall Street over the indications of progress in congress toward balancing the budget, brokerage quarters were somewhat gloomy over the prospect of the increased tax on securities transfers, some predicting that it would restrict trading

FIRST DISPUTE LOOMS IN NEW TAX PARLEY

use consolidated returns. He said $18,000,000 would be returned by the ways and means committee amendment. Cannon withdrew his amendment after the speaker's opposition.

A big question was whether the various new taxes could be counted on to yield the sums estimated by the committee.

The administration, today was turning a skeptical eye on the Democratic expectations of reducing appropriations $243,000,000 under the White House's budget estimates. Of this $113,000,000 already has been cut from the budget by the appropriations committee.

Huge Saving Necessary
With the new revenue bill slated to yield about $900,000,000, the saving of $243,000,000 will be essential to meet the calculated deficit of $1,241,000,000 for the next fiscal year.

Amendments to the bill adopted by the house yesterday were figured to yield $189,500,000. Available action today were proposals to bring to $223,000,000 the revenue from taxes so far offered by the ways and means committee to replace the defeated general sales tax.

Rabbi Tarshish Red Cross nutrition committee of the Community fund, all Legion members will be given the committee to use in giving milk for undernourished children in Marion schools.

Miss Margaret Dowd, Red Cross secretary, is in charge of music for the program. Dr. F. L. Thomas, F. O. Tittle Jr., Russell Sear and E. H. Shade will be in charge of tickets at the auditorium. Seating is in charge of Clifford Chapman and Mrs. S. G. Rosenberg is in charge of publicity.

On a general committee are Mrs. George Turner who is taking Mrs. Loretta K. Ward place on the nutrition committee during the latter's absence in California, Mrs. Frank M. Knapp, president of the Marion City Council of the Parent-Teacher association, and Mrs. Grover Snyder, president elect of the Marion County Federation of Women's clubs.

Rabbi Tarshish will speak on the subject, "What is Wrong with the World Today," giving his views after a close analysis of social and economic problems.

Four well-known Marion men were asked the same question by Legionnaires today and their answers were given as follows:

George A. Bowman, superintendent of schools: "More than we need some one to tell us what is wrong with the world, we need some one to lead us in correcting the wrongs so certainly about us. We have found that greed and selfishness lead only to misery and disaster and yet we lack the vision and moral courage to put generosity and unselfishness in their places."

W. D. Brown, manager, Marion chamber of commerce: "The world does not owe any man a living; but organized society and business does owe it to every man that he have an opportunity to earn a living. Provide this opportunity for work and soon there will be more ringing of cash registers and less wringing of hands."

Rev. Howard L. Oldewiler of the First Presbyterian church: "The underlying cause of our confusion is individual selfishness of which we are all guilty. We cannot place the blame upon any one institution, event or person. The human race is responsible. We are the perpetrators. Today we are reaping the consequence of our own selfishness. The universe is moral, just and spiritual and we cannot long survive in peace and normality if we insist on stressing elements which are contrary to its basic principles. The wrong which upsets the world is in the common man. The average man lives a self-centered and selfish existence little realizing that through this type of activity he is letting loose the earth currents of energy which are not in harmony with the life giving principles of the universe. This unbalanced relationship creates war and economic collapse. When the average man is able to see that welfare and a better day depends upon his attitude toward life we have arrived at a new stage in civilization."

J. Malcolm Strelitz, Marion attorney: "Answering the question as to what is wrong with the world today, it is my opinion that we are unduly troubled about world problems in place of our own individual problems and that a little more attention to the latter would in no small measure help to solve the former."
